

Ottawa region's Ontario Liberals vow to never abandon Ottawa

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

January 30, 2025

OTTAWA, ON – Today, all Ottawa region Ontario Liberal candidates pledged to hold Doug Ford accountable for his decision to call an unnecessary and expensive election.

“Doug Ford didn’t call this election to give your family what they need,” said incumbent Kanata-Carleton MPP Karen McCrimmon. “He called this election to give himself four more years of power.”

The election is expected to cost Ontario taxpayers $175 million, at a time when 160,000 Ottawa residents do not have a family doctor, while another 200,000 are at risk of losing one because of retirement.

Ontario Liberals have been clear: as life becomes increasingly unaffordable, our schools crumble, our health care system collapses, and the dreams of our young people owning a home become unattainable. Our province deserves better.

From tornadoes to floods to convoys, Doug Ford abandoned Ottawa, leaving us to fend for ourselves in times of crisis. Now, he’s only seeking four more years to keep lining the pockets of his rich friends. The Ontario Liberal are running to deliver more for you – the people of Ontario. We will find you a family doctor, lower your taxes, and allow young people to buy their first home. Our party will always stand up for Ontario, and never leave the people of Ottawa behind.

For media inquiries or more information, please contact:

Quinn LeFort, Eastern Region Coordinator

qlafort@ontarioliberal.ca